

Stitch a Fish Project: 2026

So what is actually out there... under the waves?

We, at the Arts Society, decided we should celebrate the amazing diversity of creatures that live here under the briny in Lyme Bay.

So we talked to our friends and started the ball rolling! Ros Grimes designed an amazing plan.

The entire piece was hand painted by Susan Paradise, and then cut into the required shapes for us to get stitching on.

Paula Faulkner has been advising on techniques for anyone that needs it.

When completed we hope to display this wall hanging in a variety of venues in East Devon.
